MEXICO GETS MRS, RICH

The Alleged Murderess to Be Arraigned at Juarez.

The First instance in the History of the United States Where This Government Has Surrendered One of Its Citizens to a Foreign Country for Trial-Her Reputation Not Good

For the first time in the history of the United States this Government has consented to surrender one of its own citizens for trial in a foreign country. The precedent is even more remarkable, for the person principally involved is a woman, Mrs. Mattie Rich, "the champion lady pugilist of America." according to her own description, and the crime with which she is charged is punishable with death,

Mrs. Rich is in jail at El Paso, Tex., and she will be surrendered to Mexican officers for trial at the town of Juarez, Mexico, just across the Rio Grande. The extradition treaty recently arranged with Mexico was the first to which the United States was a party providing that the citizen of one country wanted for a crime committed in the other country should be surrendered to the other country if sufficient evidence were produced to show his connection with the crime. The provision had been inserted at the instance of this Government. to which it will be of more benefit than to

In the absence of such a provision in the In the absence of such a provision in the previous extradition treaty with Mexico American criminals who fied to Mexican territory could not be extradited to the United States. There were a great many cases of this kind, but, curiously enough, the first under the treaty was that of an American wanted for trial in Mexico.

The evidence ready ed against Mexico.

The evidence produced against Mrs. Rich by the Mexican Government at the hearing before the United States commissioner who heard the extradition proceeding was of such a character that this Government could not refuse to grant Mexico's request for her surrender. She is charged with the murder of her husband, a saloonkeeper of Juarez, whom she had met in Chicago. Her own testimeny showed that she did not have a good reputation.

A ROOSEVELT STATEMENT.

The Governor Explains His Part in Military Appointments.

New York, July 15.-Governor Roosevelt oday, through his secretary, made the following personal statement:

'In view of the statements made in certain morning papers, I wish it distinctly understood that my functions regarding the mi itary appointments from New York were limited to passing upon the names submitted to me by the War Department. The choice was exercised by the department,

Then a list was submitted to me, which | brained him with a club. I went over with Adjutant General Andrews. Concerning half of the men I could find nothing. I notified the War De-partment that I could find nothing and knew only what the War Department rec-ords abov. Concerning the other half, I procured additional facts, which I reported."

The governor has has been flooded with requests to secure appointments and be has sent letters to the applicants, of which

A Special Building Permit.

Charles H. Merillat, attorney at law, has requested that a special permit be granted George R. Repetti to erect two dwelling houses with bay windows on the west side of Eighth Street southeast, between Pennsylvania Avenue and E Street. He submitted a statement showing the circumstances in the case. The street is now a business thoroughfare, and designated as such by the District.

Insamuch as the number of business houses on the street predominate the Commissioners have replied that they see no reason why it should be eliminated from street. They state, however, that Mr. Re-petti may erect two dwellings upon his lot, with hay-window and stoop attachments by receding from the building line to that extent which will confine the encroachment upon public space within the limit allowed by the regulations. Northeast Citizens' Complaint.

A lengthy petition was lately received by the District Commissioners and other residents of northeast Washington relative to the dust nuisance along Florida Avenue between Ninth and Twelfth Streets northeast. The municipal authorities were asked to investigate the watering and sweeping of the thoroughfare and see that some kind of relief was afforded. The superintendent of Street Sweeping, Warner Stutler, to whom the matter was referred, states that the street is sprinkled twice per day at the present time which is the best possible arrangement to be made with the money available for the work. The Commission-ers will so inform the petitioners.

LYNCHED IN HIS CELL.

Mob Violence for a Murder Committed in April Last.

Savannah, Ga., July 15.-A special from Gainesville, Ga., states that great excitement prevails there over the work of a mob at midnight last night. Si Smith, a respectable farmer of Habersham county, in which Gainesville is situated, and who was in jail for the murder of William Bell, a commercial traveler from Atlanta, was shot to death shortly after midnight. The that he wanted to leave a prisoner for safe keeping. Another of the mo) had his handa apparently securely tied and acted well the part of the prisoner. The leader went forward with him, handling him rather rough-ward with him, handling him rather roughly to further carry out the deception.

The entire crowd succeeded in getting into the jail before Sheriff Mundy realized that he was tricked. His first intimation that anything was wrong was when he was told to keep quiet and still and saw a gun barrel turned his way. He told the men, at their request, where the keys to the cells were. They were quickly secured and the mob began to despatch the work which had brought it to the jail. They rushed for Smith's cell. There was a rattle as of musketry in battle, intermingled with cries for mercy and agonizing groans.

Smith had been shot six times, and was dead. The sheriff was unable to recognize a single one of his midnight callers. All the members of the mob were masked. The man who was lynched was one of the most prominent farmers in Habersham county. He killed Bell in April with a heavy club. He is said to have been drunk at the time. He accused Bell of having insulted a member of his family, and meeting him alone in a buggy rode up behind him and British Suggestions on the New Boer Franchise Bill Invited.

Pretoria, July 15.—Mr. Chamberlain, the British Colonial Secretary, recently asked for a copy of the new Boer franchise bill and an explanation of certain of its clauses. He also suggested that the debate on the measures in the Volksraad be postponed until he had studied the bill. President Kruger has cabled him that the be stopped, but friendly suggestions would be received. This is regarded as disproving Mr. Chamberlain's alleged bellicose attitude, but it is impossible for him to make suggestions pending the receipt of a mailed copy of the bill, as he has admit-

A BRUTAL MURDER.

Mulatto Woman Choked to Death With a Handkerchief.

Newport News, Va., July 15 .- A crime of almost unparalleled brutality, and one which is probably unique in criminal history, was committed Thursday night in Tin Bucket Alley, in Phoebus, when Minnie Fargo, a mulatto woman, was killed, pre-somably by a soldier, who was seen in her company earlier in the evening. The dead body of the woman was found in her house shortly after midnight, and evidences of a terrific struggle was manifested by the fact that the woman's clothes were torn into shreds, although there were no marks into shreds, although there were no marks of violence on the body itself.

For a time the officers were at a loss to understand the cause of the woman's death. The mystery was solved at the post-mortem examination, however. The physician who conducted the examination noticed that the neck was somewhat swol-len. Forcing the mouth open he found that a handkerchief had been forced down the woman's throat until death ensued rom suffocation.

killing of Bell occurred some time ago and did not create very much excitement at the time. Recently, however, there has arisen some feeling against Smith, and it culminated in his death in a most tragic manner.

The men bent upon taking the life of the prisoner called at the jall about midnight and got Sheriff Mundy out of bed by telling him they had a prisoner from a neighboring county to place in jail. A sharp advance followed the publication of the bank statement which revealed a substantial strengthening of the position of the associated banks. Loans were reduced over $17,000,000 from last week's level, and the banks' cash holdings showed a gain of about $1.800,000. The latter was a particularly gratifying circumstance as the common estimates forshadowed a decrease in cash of about $2,000,000 It is crease in cash of about $2,000,000. crease in cash of about $2,000,000. It is evident from this that the banks are re-ceiving funds from some unknown quarter. The decrease in deposits of $15,273,000 was a logical reflection of the changes in loans and in cash, and the increase of $5,636,000 in surplus reserve was a further logical reflection of the decrease in liabilities and the gain in cash. The banks now hold $10,698,000 in excess of the lawful requirements. The ratio of cash to deposits is now 26 per cent as against 25.5 per cent

THE WEEK AMONG BROKERS.

An Outlook From the Present Finan cial Standpoint. New York, July 15 .- The "Evening Sun" in its report of the financial outlook today

"With the opening of the week in the stock market attention was turned backtrading, there was subsequent recession in prices. In the interval the stock market enjoyed a period of rising prices and active trading, and the market closed with comparatively small price changes resulting from the week's transactions. "The showing made by the banks last week unquestionably came as a great surprise to the ordinary speculator in stocks. prise to the ordinary speculator in stocks. However much the statement may have reflected particular and transient circumstances, it at least showed that the associated banks had reached a point where their loaning power had been fully extended and that it was necessary for them to contract their credits. The fairly close money market of the week shows plainly that the banks have been following the latter course, though at no time have distressingly stringent financial conditions prevalled, and the time loan quarter of the money market gave scant reflection to the money market gave scant reflection to the flurry in the rates for call loans. "In view of the general circumstances of the outside situation and the general level of the stock market, it seems indeed that the outside situation and the general level of the stock market, it seems indeed that the latter may most safely be looked for to furnish the main incentives to new speculative ventures for the remainder of the year. The rise in prices since 1897 was built out of exceptionally favorable agricultural conditions, cheap money, and a low level of prices in the stock market.

"Largely out of the first-named, aided by the many favoring circumstances of the interval has grown the present active trade conditions which have in part served to cause money to appreciate while stock market prices have also attained a comparatively high level. But for the glittering possibilities comprised in the present rallway outlook it might almost be assumed that the causes and effects of the stock market situation have struck a balance. The pending work of unifying and consolidating the improvement which has taken place in the railway situation in the past two years contains, however, not only substantial and permanent value, but further it may be assumed a good deal of speculative powder which has not as yet been burned before as so much of the other speculative ammunition has been."
